Future now

Apply now for a scholarship!

Apply now with your research ideas for a scholarship and become part of the Transformation Summer Camp at KU Eichstätt-Ingolstadt in the heart of Bavaria (Germany). We offer you a week-long opportunity to discuss your ideas with internationally recognized experts and develop them further in a targeted manner.

You will learn how to present your work at scientific conferences using posters. You can expand your network in science and practice. And you will learn how methods from participatory research and citizen science can help you involve social actors in your projects.

What is it about?

The Transformation Summer Camp 2026 addresses current issues at the intersection of participatory research, transformative science, and citizen science. We firmly believe that the sustainable development of our societies is only possible if we involve citizens and stakeholders from politics, local government, business, education, and civil society more closely in science and research.

The camp's main topics include: participatory research, citizen science, transdisciplinarity and knowledge integration, transformative research and social impact, quality assurance, and ethical frameworks.

Who can apply?

The Transformation Summer Camp is open to students from all disciplines and fields of study who are currently completing or have already completed their master's degree and are about to start a doctorate.Was umfasst das Stipendium?
